THE POST.

LEBANON, KY.,

Wednesday Morning, Sept. 19, 1855.

We have so much Job Work on hand that we have promised to do, that we cannot get out even a half sheet next week. We will have a hand here, if there are any to be had, so as to be able to bring out a whole sheet the week following.

The Democrat and Times, of Louisville, of the 18th and 19th inst contain the full particulars of the riots in that city on Monday the 6th ult. Statements and affidavits of some of the best citizens there, gentlemen who have held offices of trust, artists and professional gentlemen of irreproachable reputation, all concur in proving conclusively that the victims of the hellish, blood-thirsty mob, so far from being the aggressors, never even offered resistance for their own self preservation. How an impartial public will judge between the evidence of that chief of mobocrats, George D. Prentice and the array of evidence brought forward now is easily to be seen, we opine. The immaculate editor of the Journal gave as evidence the written testimony of persons who could neither write their own name nor recognize it after it was written for them; and, such men as James Speed, Geo. Alfred Caldwell, F. S. J. Ronald, Thomas M. Hicks, and a host of others of like respectability give diametrically opposite statements as to the cause of the rioting and bloodshed. Who is to be credited? As we before stated, an impartial public can and will easily come to a just conclusion.

We regret to see, by the last Harrisburg Ploughboy that its editor has been confined to his bed "by serious illness."

The Ploughboy in complimenting the Bardstown Gazette, says it "is worth more than all the papers that have been published in Bardstown within a half dozen years past." As we carried on a little bantling just previous to the time mentioned, may we not feel ourselves excluded from the comparison? What say you, reader?

A Missouri editor announces that the publication of his paper will be suspended for six weeks in order that he may visit St. Louis with a load of bear skins, hoop poles, shingles, oak bark and pickled cat-fish, which he had taken for subscriptions.—Exch.

He should conceive himself quite fortunate in securing those marketable articles. As for ourselves, we sometimes succeed in getting chips and cast-iron leather whet-stones for subscriptions. With the first we build a fire under an "empty pot of water," and with the second we whet up our wits in order to procure something to put therein. As for our appetite, that don't need any whetting.

Mr. J. L. BRIDGES.—We are gratified to learn that our model Judge, who has been suffering from severe indisposition for some weeks past, has regained his health so much as to preside, with his usual mental if not bodily ability at the Washington Circuit Court last week. We hope to see him in attendance at our approaching term entirely recuperated.

We understand that several distinguished members of the Bar from the neighboring counties were present at the Washington Court during the past week.

We understand that Monsieur Pizarinum and the world-wide celebrated Monsieur Kutmanoessoff, have joined their two vast collections of wild and rare animals and that they will give an exhibition in this place, on Wednesday next. As Messrs. Raymond & Co.'s Menagerie and Circus exhibits here on the same day, the folks may expect a rare time. Come one, come all, "for to see the monkey show." No smoking aloud, front seats reserved for the ladies, niggers behind the door and dogs under the benches; no sticking pins in the elephant or rhinoceros.

Capt. Theodore O'Hara is in the city of Louisville.

NO. 46.

A Few Startling Facts!

IT IS A FACT, That Mr. H. M. McCarty, the "ostensible" editor of the Gazette, has crippled our business by gaining a larger patronage than ourself; has dared to publish a bigger and better paper than ourselves; and has finally "added insult to injury" by insisting that we did sleep at that ball.

IT IS A FACT, that after these injuries, if he does not challenge us, so that we can get the advantage of him, we will continue to blackguard him, until we make him do it.

IT IS A FACT, that Bulfinch the foregoing facts, as well as every line of editorial which appears in this week's Post.

IT IS A FACT, that the author of the foregoing facts can hit a common sized button with his rifle sixty yards, sixteen times out of twelve shots. But

IT IS A SERIOUS FACT, that we doubt hugely whether we could hit within feet of it if the aforesaid button was on the coat of a man who could use a rifle, particularly if the owner were in it. And finally,

IT IS A FACT, that we would have no apprehensions of a rifle in Mr. McCarty's hands, for he don't even know how to set the triggers, let alone to shoot accurately.

Who was the Sleeper?

We thought that we had put this question for ever at rest by the overpowering evidence which we published; but lo and behold the Gazette has reiterated the outragous and unheard-of charge, that we did sleep at the ball! Such a crime against etiquette and the muses we most emphatically deny ever having been guilty of. What, slumber whilst those exerusting strains were being tortured forth by the instrumentality of horse-hair, cat-trail, rosin, and elbow grease; not to say forty drops of "red eye," now and then? Whilst the luscious-lipped son of Ethiope oped the sweet portals of his voice and in accents soft as thunder and as clear as mud, proclaimed "chezza aw' an' tun'r partner!" Pweposterous! Mac has the audacity to doubt, as it were, the veracity of our immaculate witnesses. Such a procedure is beyond precedent; and declares he could get a certificate from Mr. Monkey John, (who is one of our principal witnesses, together with Mr. John Albino, against him,) to prove that we did sleep. It won't do Mac, you can't prevaricate out of it that way. Own up, and don't fight against "manifest destiny" any longer, for you will be convicted at last. It was unkind of you Mac, to throw up to us about borrowing your "store close," that was as mean as the man who lent a pair of unmentionables to a friend to go to church in; and when ever a pious streak would strike the borer and he would kneel, the lender would bring him summarily to his feet by exclaiming, "Look here, quit kneeling on that dirty floor in my breeches!" We didn't think you would tell everybody when we borrowed your "close." Mr. Scroggins desires us to say to you, he did brush your clothes when you were here, and that he'll brush them again while you are in them, if he ever lays eyes on you, for not paying him the ten cents you owed him; and then 'sputin' his word.—Dang his buttons he don't.

Improvement.

Advancement and improvement seem to be the order of the day in our delightful little town. Although the times have been pretty tight in pecuniary matters of late, yet it does not seem to have any effect upon our thoroughgoing and enterprising citizens. Messrs. L. A. SPALDING & Co., will shortly be able to enter their new and splendid store. The Messrs. PHILLIPS are erecting a large addition back of their store, and intend to build a new and fine front. Mr. E. P. MANOS intends, we understand, enlarging and beautifying his store. Mr. KIRK is building a handsome addition to his tavern stand; which Mr. J. NORTHCRAFT has rented and is to take possession of in a few weeks.

Besides those mentioned, there are several new dwellings in the course of erection. Yet notwithstanding all the improvements which are made here yearly, they do not keep up with the demand. Scarce a week passes that some one, and some times two and three, persons do not come here for the purpose of locating; but have to leave disappointed on account of their inability to procure either a dwelling or business house. This is certainly a great drawback to any community. Some of those who have thus been disappointed are mechanics and tradesmen whose services are actually needed by the community. However, we look for a better time a coming."

We would direct the especial attention of our readers to our new advertisements.

Messrs. SANSBURY & BOWMAN, are in receipt of one of the largest and most compleat stock of everything in their line, that we ever saw. Give them a call.

Messrs. DUNCAN & STOV, have dissolved partnership. The business will hereafter be carried on by the junior partner alone. Everybody knows Charley.

The big show is bound to be here on next Wednesday. Look out for fun. We expect everybody and their sweet-heart will attend.

Mrs. Lindsey, the editress of the Kentucky Garland, is so dangerously ill at Portsmouth, Ohio, that her life is despaired of.

John P. Bruce has disposed of the Somerset Gazette to Gen. C. W. Gilmore. Mr. E. C. Bachelor will hereafter edit the Gazette.

COSVICED—Solomon Smith, who was charged with the murder of Wm. L. Smith his own father, in April last, was convicted of the crime of murder on Wednesday last in the Bourbon Circuit Court.

The foreign correspondence of the New York Sunday Courier furnishes some items that present the character of Rachel in any other than a pure light.

The following anecdote of Horace Vernet is amusing the Parisians, though, I suppose, there is not a grain of truth in it:

The artist was coming from Versailles to the city in the cars. In the same compartment with him were two ladies whom he had never seen before, but who evidently were acquainted with him. They examined him very minutely, and commented upon him quite freely, upon his martial bearing, his pale old age, his military pantaloons &c. The painter was annoyed, and determined to put an end to the persecution. As the train passed under the tunnel of St. Cloud, the three travellers were raised in complete darkness. Vernet raised the back of his hand to his mouth and kissed it twice volitionally. On emerging from the obscurity he found that the ladies had withdrawn their attention from him, and were accusing each other of having been kissed by a man in the dark. As they arrived at Paris, Vernet, on leaving them, said, "Ladies, I shall be puzzled all my life by the inquiry, 'Which of these two ladies was it that kissed me?'"

A beloved mother requests the papers throughout the country to publish the following:

A boy, James Nesbitt, now about seventeen years of age, left his mother, Mary Ann Nesbitt, nearly two years ago to procure employment and assist in supporting his only surviving parent, who is an educated and intelligent lady in poor circumstances, and who is much distressed at the absence or loss of her son. Mr. Nesbitt is residing at Erie, New York, and will be most thankful for any information about his lost boy.

Last Saturday a negro belonging to Mr. Duke, of Yalabusha county, Miss., assaulted and killed with an axe Mr. Edwards, an overseer, severing his skull in the most brutal manner. The murderer created great excitement, and there was a first a disposition on the part of the people to hang the negro. Murders of this kind are becoming every day more daring. They are doubtless instigated by the discussion of slavery in the South—the log restraints upon slaves by their owners—and the liquor traffic with negroes. A more rigid discipline should be observed by those who have the management of them, and none should be permitted to leave home without the written consent of the master.—Memphis Eagle and Environs.

ARISTOCRATIC HUMANITY.—Vast hypocrisy and enormous pretensions to extra-humanity generally go together. The Duchess of Sutherland, the great London friend of "Uncle Tom," and the leading subscriber to the position of the "Women of England" for the abolition of slavery in America, has just permitted a poor bed-ridden woman, with her new-born babe, to be turned into the open fields, for the non-payment to her husband's estate of a trifling amount of rent! Humanity, like charity should always begin at home.

Yet notwithstanding all the improvements which are made here yearly, they do not keep up with the demand. Scarce a week passes that some one, and some

Enter boy in a hurry:

Boy—Oh! pa, pa! come out here quick! There's an Irishman eating a watermelon up in the alley; you can shoot him so easy. I would have thrown rocks at him, but I want to see you shoot him so bad."

Pa—Don't make such a noise son, there are two Dutchmen coming down the street, and I think I can get them in range and kill them both.

Boy—We are in ecstasies at the anticipation of such fine sport.

Peaches are selling in New York at thirty-seven and a half cents per basket. A basket contains five-eighths of a bushel.

A Pennsylvania editor says: "Somebody brought one bottle of soured water into our office, with the request to notice it as lemon beer. If Esau was green enough to sell his birthright for a mess of pottage, it does not prove that we will sell a four-shilling keg for five cents."

Louis Napoleon kissed Queen Victoria when she landed in France. There is great virtue in a kiss from an Emperor. When Louis Napoleon was a special constable in London, if he had presumed to kiss the Queen, he would have had his brains knocked out with a blow from a "billy," by some of his constabulary brothers.

Mrs. Evans, of Franklin Square, Baltimore, after washing an infant ten months old in a tub of water, laid it on the floor while she left the room. Meantime a larger child put the infant back in the tub, and attempted to resume the washing of it; but unfortunately the poor baby's head was kept under water so long, that when the mother returned she found it dead.

A VALUABLE INVENTION BY A COLOR-MAN.—The Philadelphia Sun says Aaron Roberts, a colored man in that city, has invented what we think cannot fail to prove a most valuable aid to the Fire Department. It is constructed on the principle of a telescope, occupying a very small space when closed, but capable of being extended to a height of some sixty feet, by means of concealed cogs. Above this is a branch pipe, made flexible, and worked in any direction by chains reaching to the ground. The machine can be run into a narrow alley, or any confined space, and by attaching a hose to the fire plug, the water will be forced to the top, and thence directed at the pleasure of the operator. Complete safety is thus afforded to the firemen, and instant application may be made to any part of a burning building.

COWARDLY ASSAULT.—We learn, says the Mt. Sterling Whig, from Hazlegreen, Morgan county, that a dreadful occurrence took place about a mile from that place, on the State road, on the 4th inst. A man named Murphy, an Irishman, while passing a doghouse recently established was assaulted by one of the inmates named Bays, and struck twice—once under the left shoulder blade, and the other just about the second rib, cutting to the bone. The physicians think there is but little hope of his recovery.

ANOTHER CHURCH OUTRAGE.—The Catholic Church in Peoria, Illinois, was forcibly entered not many nights ago by some unknown miscreants, who broke the windows, as well as the doors, candlesticks and other ornaments of the altar; tore the pictures, (valuable ones from Europe,) from the walls, and destroyed them and left the interior of the edifice a heap of ruins.

AN UNFORTUNATE FAMILY.—Captain Pendleton, of the schooner E. S. Pendleton of Gloucester, Mass., was drowned in that harbor on Sunday evening. He had just returned from a fishing cruise. He was the twelfth one of a family of four sons who have been drowned.

At a meeting on the 25th of August, of the Virginia know nothings, J. M. Bolls offered the following:

"That this country is decidedly in favor of such modifications in our constitution and laws, as will enable us to dispense with the religious test question as now established, with all unnecessary secrecy in our transactions, as well as the TEST OATHS now administered; but, inasmuch as a union of the eastern and western counties of this State is about to take place, we forbear to adopt any resolution on these several points, and content ourselves with a unanimous recommendation, that such modifications may be adopted by the United States Council, which is to assemble in Richmond on the 15th day of January next."

This resolution was unanimously adopted, and through it, the know nothing order was, by fair inference, unanimously consigned to the "oubliette of the Capetots." What remains of Sam? The know nothing council have rob'd him of his arms and legs, and left him but a gasping head, a quivering trunk. Two things are clearly and authentically established by this resolution of Botts' Frst, that there were "religious tests," that there was "unnecessary secrecy" in their transactions.

ANOTHER DISGUSTING BOOK.—A life of Henrietta Robinson, the veiled murderer, is soon to be published. We hope that no person who values sound morals, and would rebuke a morbid taste for works of this kind, will purchase a copy of the book, or in any manner countenance its circulation.

We have been more than surprised with volumes of this noxious description lately.—LOW. DEM.

NEW AND CHEAP

SANSBURY & BOWMAN,

THE above having located themselves permanently in Lebanon, Ky., wish to inform the public generally, that they are now receiving direct from the Eastern Market, a full and complete stock of DRUGS, MEDICINES, &c., which they offer for sale as low as they can be had in Louisville or any of the Western cities.

We have taken the precaution to select every article having long been engaged in the Drug and Prescription business, we are fully prepared for the great want of fresh and pure druggists and medicines.

We have also made an arrangement with the Eastern Wholesale Druggists and Manufacturers, by which we will be enabled to keep our stock full and complete.

The following is an abridged catalogue of our stock, viz:

Drugs, Paints in Oil, Medicines, Glass, Paints, Glass Ware, Oils, Perfumery, Dyestuffs, Fancy and Toilet Soaps, Varnishes, Painters' Brushes, Medical Brandies, Pure Wine for the sick, Cordials, Tooth and hair Brushes, Breast Pumps, Flavoring Extracts, Hafser Teats, &c., &c.

Rags! Rags!! Rags!!!

Clean Linen and Cotton Rags wanted at this office. The highest price in CASH will be paid for any amount brought.

Notice.

All personal communications to this paper will be hereafter charged as advertisements, and must be paid for, before they can appear. This rule will be adhered to strictly.

Wanted, Immediately.—A young lad, of from 12 to 15 years of age, to learn the printing business. A boy of good moral character, of a sprightly intellect, who can come well recommended, can have a chance to obtain a good and lucrative trade.

—It is said that T. F. Meagher, recently admitted to practice in the New York Courts, has been retained for the defence of the alleged murderers of Pool. It will be his first case.

NEGROES AND ROYALTY.—The English papers mention that among the recent presentations to Queen Victoria was the Envoy of the negro Emperor Faustin I. The distinguished personage is said to be as black as ebony.

—Suit has been commenced by a Mr. Blaeburn, of New York city, against the Camden and Amboy Railroad Company, for damages sustained in the injury of two of his family by the Burlington accident.

—The Lafayette (Ia.) Courier says that contracts have already been made for large amounts of corn to be delivered during the winter, and previous to the opening of the canal in spring, at twenty cents a bushel.

—Out of a population of at least twenty thousand, lately residing in Norfolk and its suburbs, scarcely three thousand remain. Seventeen thousand have either fled or been destroyed by the pestilence.

—The "Agricultural and Mechanical Fair" held at Crab Orchard in Lincoln county, last week, was largely attended, and passed off in the finest style. The exhibition of stock was in the highest degree creditable to that section of the State.

—On Friday night last, the clerk's office of the steamer Isaac Newton, plying on the Hudson River, was broken into and $2,500 taken from the drawer.

—James Elder has resigned the Presidency of the Planters' Bank of Tennessee. Col. E. McDavit succeeds him.

—It is proposed to establish a new county out of portions of Grant, Boone, Newton, Galatin and Pendleton counties.

—On Friday afternoon week, an accommodation stage capsized near Asheville, N. C., in which were the Hon. Wm. Cain, (late Lieut. Gov. of South Carolina,) and his wife, and the wife, two daughters, and a son of Dr. Elias Horlebeck, of Charleston. Mrs. Cain was killed, dying in a few minutes, and all the others were much injured and bruised. So it seems there are other ways to be killed, while traveling, besides going on railroads and steamboats.

FALL TRADE.

HATS TAPS, AND FUR GOODS.
POLLARD, PRATHER, & SMITH,
455, Main Street, Louisville.

WE have made large additions to our manufacturing departments, by which we can supply our friends with a better article of goods in our line than ever before, of our own manufacture, and much superior in style and quality to goods bought of jobbers in the Eastern cities.

OUR FALL STYLE DRESS HAT will be far superior to and of a more elegant style than any other sold.

Our stock of SOFT HATS, embracing every color, quality, and style, is very large, and will be sold at greatly reduced prices.

MEN'S AND BOY'S WOOL HATS—We have the largest stock to be found in any house in the Union.

We are determined to sell our goods to cash customers and prompt-time men cheaper than they can be had of any other house, and by an examination of our stock all will be convinced.

Our stock of goods for the Fall trade has been gotten up under the supervision of the most experienced and practised manufacturers in the country. We obligate ourselves to sell every article in our line of Eastern prices, and guarantee the quality and style to be better.

CONSUMPTION.

Successfully Treated by Inhalation of Medicated Vapors.

BY Johnson Stewart Rose, M. D., Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians, and for years senior Physician in the London Royal Infirmary, for Diseases of the Lungs.

In this age of progress, Medical Science has contributed her full share to the general welfare; and that which shines resplendent, the brightest jewel in her diadem, is her last and greatest gift, MEDICATED VAPOR INHALATION in the treatment of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITAS, ASTHMA, and kindred affections.

All must see the absurdity of treating Consumption through the stomach, by filling it with nauseous drugs; the disease is not in the stomach, but in the lungs, and by inhaling medicine in the form of Vapor, I apply the remedy directly to the diseased organ. There is, therefore, no case so hopeless that inhalation will not reach.

I earnestly appeal to the common sense of all afflicted with lung diseases, to embrace at once the advantages of inhalation.

I claim for inhalation in the treatment of consumption, &c. a place amongst the priceless gifts that nature and art have given us, that "our days may long be in the land," and as the only ark of refuge for the Consumptive! A method not only rational, but simple, safe, and efficacious.

I have pleasure in referring to 108 names, residents of New York and neighborhood, who have been restored to vigorous health. About one-third of the above number, according to the patients' own statements were considered hopeless cases.

The Inhaling method is soothing, safe, and consists in the administration of medicines in such a manner that they are conveyed into the lungs in the form of vapor, and produce their action at the seat of the disease. Its practical success is destined to revolutionize the opinions of the medical world, and establish the entire CURABILITY of Consumption.

Applicants will please state if they have bled from the lungs, if they have lost flesh, have a cough, night sweats, and fever turns, what and how much they expectorate, what the condition of their stomach and bowels. The Medicines, Apparatus, &c. will be forwarded to any part.

TESTIMONY.

WE, the undersigned, practitioners in medicine, cheerfully recommend Dr. Johnson S. Rose's method of treating diseases of the throat and lungs, as the best and most effectual ever introduced into medical practice. Our convictions are based upon having several of our own patients, confirmed consumptives, restored to vigorous health after a few months treatment by Dr. Rose.

In the above named disease, the application of "Medicated Vapors" inhaled directly into the lungs may be justly considered a great boon to suffering humanity, rendering consumption a perfectly curable disease.

Dr. Rose deserves well of the profession for his strenuous and unrewarded exertions in bringing this successful and only reliable method of treating consumption to such a degree of perfection.
